

This proposal lives online at: <https://github.com/porres/Knob-Detox-submission>

As a composer and musician, I have a varied background in diverse activities. I have done soundtracks for short films, animation and live plays. I've written instrumental, electronic, mixed pieces and I've also worked with experimental and even pop music. As a performer, most of my work is in live electronics.

In the last years I've been heavily active in the local scene of São Paulo, especially in the events at the Ibrasotope artist-run center. There's a big scene of experimental and improvised music and I've participated as a solo and in various group formations, mostly doing Live Electronics and free improvisation. There's also a noise scene that I've actively participated in many performances as a soloist and with collaborators.

Solo Performances as Patch Shop Boy

"Patch Shop Boy" – I have used this name as a project/show name of my live performances. This is the submitted proposal for the Knob Detox 2026.

On this github page I have a live recording of a gig I did in may 2025 (see flyer below). You can download the .flac file for listening, but the same track is also uploaded to <https://soundcloud.com/porres/patch-shop-boy-live-performance-may-31st-2025>

Group Improvisation with Live Electronics

- "A Fantástica Fábrica de Patches do Dr. Porres com Manuel Falleiros" – This is a Duo formed with saxophone player Manuel Falleiros. A few performances were made in the local improvisation scene of São Paulo (Circuito de Improvisação Livre). Here's a couple of excerpts from a live recording made in July 2017:

 - ¿Musica? 2, concert promoted by the research group MOBILE at USP
- The Patch Shop Orchestra – This project is better described as a research group I managed with my students. I played the role of a musical director and conductor and supervised them in a live setting. I did some of such performances at the end of courses I taught and carried it on with my best and most interested students. We also performed in the local scene and even at some festivals. Selected presentations:
 - 1º Festival Música Estranha (1st Strange Music Festival), São Paulo, December 2013
 - Performance at the Improvise! series of concerts at Trackers, São Paulo
